Through the master of public affairs (MPA) degree program, students learn the skills needed to transform an interest in public affairs into serious careers. The program offers rigorous professional training across several disciplines and prepares graduates to take positions as managers and analysts in government at all levels, in the rapidly growing nonprofit sector, and in private consulting firms.

The curriculum builds on foundational courses taught by core La Follette School faculty. Students choose from a wide range of courses to meet individual interests and career goals with guidance from a program and faculty advisor. A student can focus on social and poverty policy, environmental policy, energy policy, education policy, urban planning, health policy, policy analysis, or public management, or propose an alternate focus utilizing courses from public affairs and other graduate departments.

Students occasionally find it advantageous to earn two graduate degrees concurrently. The La Follette School offers a double degree program with the Department of Urban and Regional Planning, a dual degree with the Law School, and with two programs in the School of Medicine and Public Health—neuroscience (Ph.D.) and public health (MPH). MIPA and MPA students can pursue a graduate/professional certificate in energy analysis and policy and/or in transportation management and policy.

FUNDING

La Follette School fellowships and scholarships are awarded on a merit basis to all public affairs and international public affairs applicants. Priority consideration is given to applications received by the priority admission date January 1. Applications are accepted after this date on a rolling admission basis.

Half of degree coursework (21 out of 42 total credits) must be completed in graduate-level coursework. For MPA accelerated track, 21 of 36 must be completed in graduate-level coursework; courses with the Graduate Level Coursework attribute are identified and searchable in the university's Course Guide (http://my.wisc.edu/CourseGuideRedirect/BrowseByTitle).

PRIOR COURSEWORK REQUIREMENTS: GRADUATE WORK FROM OTHER INSTITUTIONS

With program approval, students are allowed to count no more than 9 credits of graduate coursework from other institutions. Coursework earned five or more years prior to admission to a master’s degree is not allowed to satisfy requirements. This work does not appear on UW–Madison transcript nor count toward graduate career GPA.

PRIOR COURSEWORK REQUIREMENTS: UW–MADISON UNDERGRADUATE

Up to 7 credits from a UW–Madison undergraduate degree are allowed to count toward the degree. This work will not appear on the student’s graduate transcript. Coursework earned five or more years prior to admission to a master’s degree is not allowed to satisfy requirements.

PRIOR COURSEWORK REQUIREMENTS: UW–MADISON UNIVERSITY SPECIAL

With program approval, students are allowed to count no more than 9 credits of coursework numbered 300 or above taken as a UW–Madison University Special student. Coursework earned five or more years prior to admission to a master’s degree is not allowed to satisfy requirements.

OVERALL GRADUATE GPA REQUIREMENT

3.0 GPA required

OTHER GRADE REQUIREMENTS

Students must earn a B or above in all core curriculum coursework.

PROBATION POLICY

The status of a student can be one of three options:

1. Good standing (progressing according to standards; any funding guarantee remains in place).
2. Probation (not progressing according to standards but permitted to enroll; loss of funding guarantee; specific plan with dates and deadlines in place in regard to removal of probationary status).
3. Unsatisfactory progress (not progressing according to standards; not permitted to enroll, dismissal, leave of absence or change of advisor or program).
ADVISOR/COMMITTEE
Every graduate student is required to have an advisor. To ensure they are making satisfactory progress toward a degree, the Graduate School expects that students meet with their advisor on a regular basis.

An advisor generally serves as the thesis advisor. In many cases, an advisor is assigned to incoming students. Students can be suspended from the Graduate School if they do not have an advisor. An advisor is a faculty member, or sometimes a committee, from the major department responsible for providing advice regarding graduate studies.

A committee often accomplishes advising for the students in the early stages of their studies.

ASSESSMENTS AND EXAMINATIONS
Requirements are determined by the program.

TIME CONSTRAINTS
Master's degree students who have been absent for five or more consecutive years lose all credits that they have earned before their absence. Individual programs may count the coursework students completed prior to their absence for meeting program requirements; that coursework may not count toward Graduate School credit requirements.

LANGUAGE REQUIREMENTS
No language requirement.

ADMISSIONS
Applicants to the master of public affairs must submit official transcripts showing at least a 3.0 undergraduate GPA (on a 4.0 scale), three references, a resume, a statement of purpose and Graduate Record Exam (GRE) scores. Preferred prerequisite courses are an introductory course in microeconomics, an introductory course in calculus or statistics, and an introductory American government course. Applicants without this background may be admitted with the understanding that these courses will be completed before beginning the program.

Every applicant whose first language is not English and whose full-four-year undergraduate instruction was not in English, must provide at least one of these minimum standardized test scores: TOEFL, International English Language Testing System (IELTS) or the Michigan English Language Assessment Battery (MELAB). The applicant must provide at least one of these minimum standardized test scores: TOEFL computer-based test score 237, TOEFL internet-based test score 92, IELTS score 7, or MELAB 82. Even if a student has the minimum score, the program can require the admitted applicant to take the on-campus ESL exam and register for any recommended English-as-a-second-language course(s) in the first semester of graduate study.
