

HISTORY, BS

Why study history? (<https://history.wisc.edu/undergraduate-program/history-careers/why-history/>) History is so much more than memorizing names and dates. Are you interested in technology? Religion? The environment? Human rights? If you have a question, history can help you find an answer.

The History major is a great option for people who are interested in studying change. History asks, “How did the world get to be this way?” and “What factors might influence where the world is heading now?” Studying history helps us understand and grapple with complex questions and dilemmas by examining how the past has shaped—and continues to shape—global, national, and local relationships between societies and people. The skills that history students develop are used in a wide range of careers and prepare students for graduate or professional study in fields such as law, business, medicine, public policy, and much more.

The History major can also be combined with any other major in the College of Letters & Science, anything from Astronomy (<https://guide.wisc.edu/undergraduate/letters-science/astronomy/>) to Zoology (<https://guide.wisc.edu/undergraduate/letters-science/integrative-biology/zoology-ba/>). Majors that students most frequently pair with History are Economics (<https://guide.wisc.edu/undergraduate/letters-science/economics/>), English (<http://guide.wisc.edu/undergraduate/letters-science/english/>), Environmental Studies (<https://guide.wisc.edu/undergraduate/letters-science/environmental-studies/environmental-studies-major/>), Journalism (<https://guide.wisc.edu/undergraduate/letters-science/journalism-mass-communication/>), and Political Science (<https://guide.wisc.edu/undergraduate/letters-science/political-science/>). History students can also choose to add certificates in Letters & Science or other colleges, such as certificates in Business (<https://guide.wisc.edu/undergraduate/business/school-wide/business-certificate/>) or Education and Educational Services (<https://guide.wisc.edu/undergraduate/education/educational-psychology/education-educational-services-certificate/>). In addition to these, some of the most common certificates for History students are currently Criminal Justice (<https://guide.wisc.edu/undergraduate/letters-science/center-law-society-justice/criminal-justice-certificate/>), Global Health (<https://guide.wisc.edu/undergraduate/agricultural-life-sciences/nutritional-sciences/global-health-certificate/>), European Studies (<https://guide.wisc.edu/undergraduate/letters-science/institute-regional-international-studies/european-certificate/>), and Digital Studies (<https://guide.wisc.edu/undergraduate/letters-science/communication-arts/digital-studies-certificate/>). The History advising team is happy to discuss ways for you to make your intellectual and career goals work as part of a four-year plan (<https://guide.wisc.edu/undergraduate/letters-science/history/history-ba/#fouryearplantext>).

REQUIREMENTS

UNIVERSITY GENERAL EDUCATION REQUIREMENTS

All undergraduate students at the University of Wisconsin-Madison are required to fulfill a minimum set of common university general education requirements to ensure that every graduate acquires the essential core of an undergraduate education. This core establishes a foundation for living a productive life, being a citizen of the world, appreciating aesthetic values, and engaging in lifelong learning in a continually changing world. Various schools and colleges will have requirements in addition to the requirements listed below. Consult your advisor for assistance, as needed. For additional information, see the university Undergraduate General Education Requirements (<https://guide.wisc.edu/undergraduate/#requirementsforundergraduatestudytext>) section of the Guide.

General Education

- Breadth—Humanities/Literature/Arts: 6 credits

NOTES ON HISTORY BREADTH REQUIREMENTS

- Breadth courses may be taken in any order.
- Chronological Breadth courses may also count toward a Geographic Breadth category.
- Some courses qualify for more than one Geographic Breadth area, but a course may only count for one Geographic Breadth category for the purposes of meeting the requirement.
- Topics courses (HISTORY 200, HISTORY 201, HISTORY 221, HISTORY 223, HISTORY 225, HISTORY 227, HISTORY 229, HISTORY 231, HISTORY 233, HISTORY 235, HISTORY 237, HISTORY 239, HISTORY 241, HISTORY 243, HISTORY 245, HISTORY 247, HISTORY 249, HISTORY 251, HISTORY 253, HISTORY 255, HISTORY 257, HISTORY 259, HISTORY 261, HISTORY 263, HISTORY 265, HISTORY 267, HISTORY 269, HISTORY 271, HISTORY 273, HISTORY 275, HISTORY 277, HISTORY 279, HISTORY 281, HISTORY 283, HIST SCI 286, HIST SCI 350 & HISTORY 500) may count for Geographic and/or Chronological Breadth. For topics courses, see the course notes for current breadth information.
- The following courses may not be used for breadth in the major: HISTORY 199, HIST SCI 555, HISTORY 600, HISTORY 680, HISTORY 681, HIST SCI 681, HISTORY 682, HIST SCI 682, HISTORY 690, HISTORY 691, HIST SCI 691, HISTORY 692, HIST SCI 692, HISTORY 693, HIST SCI 693, HISTORY 694, HIST SCI 694, HISTORY 695, HIST SCI 695, HISTORY 696, HIST SCI 696, HISTORY 697, HIST SCI 697, HISTORY 698, HIST SCI 698, HISTORY 699, HIST SCI 699.

HISTORY WRITING AND RESEARCH SEQUENCE:

History majors must complete both of the following:

- Students are encouraged to complete one of HISTORY 201 The Historian's Craft or HIST SCI 211 The Historian's Craft: Science, Medicine, and Technology as early as possible.

- HISTORY 600 Advanced Seminar in History or HIST SCI 555 Undergraduate Seminar in History of Science, to be taken after satisfactory completion of either HISTORY 201 or HIST SCI 211. Enrolling in a HISTORY 600 or HIST SCI 555 seminar requires instructor consent. Available seminars can be found on the history department website (<https://history.wisc.edu/history600-seminars/>).

RESIDENCE AND QUALITY OF WORK

- 2.000 GPA in HISTORY/HISTORY of SCIENCE and all other major courses
- 2.000 GPA on 15 upper-level major credits in residence²
- 15 credits HISTORY and/or HISTORY of SCIENCE taken on campus

HONORS IN THE MAJOR

Students may declare Honors in the History Major in consultation with the History undergraduate advisor.

HONORS IN THE MAJOR REQUIREMENTS

To earn Honors in the Major in History, students must satisfy both the requirements for the major (above) and the following additional requirements:

- Earn a 3.300 overall University GPA
- Earn a 3.500 GPA in all HISTORY and HISTORY of SCIENCE courses and all other major courses
- Complete at least 36 total credits in HISTORY and HISTORY of SCIENCE coursework, 21 of which must be upper-level credits in residence²
- Complete at least 15 Honors credits in HISTORY or HISTORY of SCIENCE coursework
- Complete a two-semester Senior Honors Thesis, a piece of original work of approximately forty pages, in either HISTORY 681-HISTORY 682 or HIST SCI 681-HIST SCI 682, taken in conjunction with the HISTORY 680 Honors Thesis Colloquium both semesters. The thesis must be approved by instructors in both the thesis and colloquium courses.

- ¹ ILS 201 and ILS 202 may also be used to complete the requirements of the History major, including the requirements for Honors in the Major.
- ² HISTORY 227, HISTORY 229, HISTORY 231, HISTORY 233, HISTORY 235, HISTORY 237, HISTORY 239, HISTORY 241, HISTORY 243, HISTORY 245, HISTORY 247, HISTORY 249, HISTORY 251, HISTORY 253, HISTORY 255, HISTORY 257, HISTORY 259, HISTORY 261, HISTORY 263, HISTORY 265, HISTORY 267, HISTORY 269, HISTORY 271, HISTORY 273, HISTORY 275, HISTORY 277, HISTORY 279, HISTORY 281, HISTORY 283, HIST SCI 286, HIST SCI 350 & HISTORY 500 may count for Geographic and/or Chronological Breadth. For topics courses, see the course notes for current breadth information.

UNIVERSITY DEGREE REQUIREMENTS

To receive a bachelor's degree from UW-Madison, students must earn a minimum of 120 degree credits. The requirements for some programs may exceed 120 degree credits. Students should consult with their college or department advisor for information on specific credit requirements.

Residency	Degree candidates are required to earn a minimum of 30 credits in residence at UW–Madison. "In residence" means on the UW–Madison campus with an undergraduate degree classification. "In residence" credit also includes UW–Madison courses offered in distance or online formats and credits earned in UW–Madison Study Abroad/Study Away programs.
Quality of Work	Undergraduate students must maintain the minimum grade point average specified by the school, college, or academic program to remain in good academic standing. Students whose academic performance drops below these minimum thresholds will be placed on academic probation.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

LEARNING OUTCOMES

1. Find and interpret diverse evidence to explain complex changes over time
2. Communicate effectively to a variety of audiences in writing and speech
3. Use an understanding of many perspectives to work with people and solve complex problems
4. Seek to understand differing views and ways of being in the world
5. Identify the skills developed in the study of history and articulate their applicability to a variety of professional and intellectual endeavors

FOUR-YEAR PLAN

FOUR-YEAR PLAN

This Four-Year Plan is only one way a student may complete an L&S degree with this major. Many factors can affect student degree planning, including placement scores, credit for transferred courses, credits earned by examination, and individual scholarly interests. In addition, many students have commitments (e.g., athletics, honors, research, student organizations, study abroad, work and volunteer experiences) that necessitate they adjust their plans accordingly. Informed students engage in their own unique Wisconsin Experience by consulting their academic advisors, Guide, DARS, and Course Search & Enroll for assistance making and adjusting their plan.

¹ The History Breadth requirements are very flexible. History majors must complete Chronological Breadth (one course) and take at least one course from four of the eight Geographical Breadth categories. A single course may count toward both Chronological and Geographic Breadth, if appropriate. (For example, a course on Ancient Rome would count toward Chronological Breadth and European History.) HISTORY 201 may also count toward History Breadth requirements.

- ² Some examples of History courses that count toward the Ethnic Studies Requirement are: HISTORY/CHICLA 152 The United States West Since 1850, HISTORY/ASIAN AM 160 Asian American History: Movement and Dislocation, & HISTORY/JEWISH 213 Jews and American Pop. Culture.
 - ³ Some L&S Breadth requirements will be satisfied with History coursework. History classes will complete the additional Humanities Breadth credits (the Humanities credits that are not Literature) and may also complete Social Science Breadth.
 - ⁴ History is a flexible major and can be combined with a wide range of other majors and certificates. We encourage students to be thoughtful in how they approach their elective credits, whether that means pursuing an additional major or creating an individual plan of study that draws from multiple disciplines.
 - ⁵ HISTORY 201 The Historian's Craft or HIST SCI 211 The Historian's Craft: Science, Medicine, and Technology may be taken as soon as you have completed the Communication A requirement. Students should try to complete the Historian's Craft by the end of the second year.
 - ⁶ History offers two optional careers courses that expose students to, and prepare them for, the wide range of careers pursued by history majors: HISTORY 300 & HISTORY 301. History at Work: Professional Skills of the Major (HISTORY 300) connects students to History alumni in different fields and helps develop essential career skills related to the value of the major. History at Work: History Internship Seminar (HISTORY 301) allows students to receive credit toward their major requirements for work associated with an internship.
 - ⁷ HISTORY 600 or HIST SCI 555 may be taken at any point after a student has completed either HISTORY 201 The Historian's Craft or HIST SCI 211 The Historian's Craft: Science, Medicine, and Technology. History 600s and History of Science 555 are offered on a variety of topics every semester and they provide students with the rich experience of a small, faculty-led seminar. They may be taken for credit more than once as long as the topics are different.
- * Students must declare a major by the time they reach 86 credits.
- Please refer to the Requirements tab in Guide for College of Letters & Science Breadth and Degree Requirements as well as Residence and Quality of Work requirements for the major.

THREE-YEAR PLAN

THREE-YEAR PLAN

This Sample Three-Year Plan is a tool to assist students and their advisor(s). Students should use it –along with their DARS report, the Degree Planner, and Course Search & Enroll tools – to make their own three-year plan based on their placement scores, credit for transferred courses and approved examinations, and individual interests.

Three-year plans may vary considerably from student to student, depending on their individual preparation and circumstances. Students interested in graduating in three years should meet with an advisor as early as possible to discuss feasibility, appropriate course sequencing, post-graduation plans (careers, graduate school, etc.), and opportunities they might forgo in pursuit of a three-year graduation plan.

DEPARTMENTAL EXPECTATIONS

Students planning to graduate within three years with a History major should enter the University with a minimum of 18 advanced standing credits, and have satisfied the following requirements with course credit or via placement examination:

- Communication Part A
- Quantitative Reasoning Part A
- 18 combined credits of Humanities, Social Science, Natural Science, or elective coursework
- 4 units of foreign language

This plan also assumes that History major coursework at UW-Madison will satisfy 6 credits of Humanities breadth (the Humanities credits that are not Literature) and 9 credits of Social Science breadth. Most History majors pursue the BA in History, but it is also possible to complete the BS and History major requirements in three years.

This plan assumes that students will complete a total of 9 credits over three summers. Summer is an opportunity to make progress toward various requirements. UW-Madison's summer course offerings include a large number of online courses, which give students more flexibility for their summer schedules. For students on an accelerated path, summer is also great time to study abroad.

First Year

Fall	Credits Spring	Credits Summer	Credits
History Breadth ¹	4 HISTORY course with the Ethnic Studies designation (complete within 1st 60 credits) ³	4 Elective or Course for Second Major	3
History Breadth	4 Elective or Course for Second Major ⁴	4

Total Credits 102

¹ The History Breadth requirements are very flexible. Students should refer to the Requirements page for the History major for details on approved overlap between types of breadth in the major.

² Even though students with 4 units of foreign language do not need to complete additional foreign language coursework, UW-Madison's retroactive credit policy (<https://kb.wisc.edu/lis/23736/>) can be very helpful for those pursuing an early graduation.

³ Some examples of History courses that count toward the Ethnic Studies Requirement are: HISTORY/CHICLA 152, ASIAN AM/HISTORY 160, & JEWISH/HISTORY 213.

⁵ History offers two optional careers courses that expose students to, and prepare them for, the wide range of careers pursued by history majors: HISTORY 300 & HISTORY 301. History at Work: Professional Skills of the Major (HISTORY 300) connects students to History alumni in different fields and helps develop essential career skills related to the value of the major. History at Work: History Internship Seminar (HISTORY 301) allows students to receive credit toward their major requirements for work associated with an internship.

⁶ HISTORY 600 or HIST SCI 555 may be taken at any point after a student has completed either HISTORY 201 The Historian's Craft or HIST SCI 211 The Historian's Craft: Science, Medicine, and Technology. History 600s and History of Science 555 are offered on a variety of topics every semester; each course provides students with the rich experience of a small, faculty-led seminar. These seminars may be taken for credit more than once as long as the topics are different. Students who choose to pursue Honors in the History major should complete HISTORY 600 or HIST SCI 555 in Year Two so that they can write a Senior honors thesis in Year Three.

ADVISING AND CAREERS

ADVISING AND CAREERS DECLARE OR CANCEL THE HISTORY MAJOR

Students interested in declaring (or cancelling) a History major should fill out the History Major/Certificate Declaration Form (<https://history.wisc.edu/undergraduate-program/declaring-the-history-major-or-certificate/>). There are no prerequisites for declaring a History major, and students are encouraged to declare as soon as they feel comfortable doing so. All students are strongly encouraged to make an advising appointment after declaring and are also welcome to meet with an advisor before declaring. More information about advising and the major is available below and on the undergraduate section (<https://history.wisc.edu/undergraduate-program/>) of the department website.

ACADEMIC ADVISING

Students who are declared or interested in the History major have numerous advising resources available to them. The History advising team is comprised of professional and peer advisors who are excited to talk with students about everything from academic planning to professional development for future careers. Information on the history advising team and how to contact an advisor can be found on our website (<https://history.wisc.edu/undergraduate-program/undergraduate-advising/>). You can set up an appointment with one of our advisors by using the History Department Starfish (<https://wisc.starfishsolutions.com/starfish-ops/dl/instructor/serviceCatalog.html?bookmark=service/64599>) page.

The History major can also be combined with any other major in the College of Letters & Science, anything from Astronomy (<https://guide.wisc.edu/undergraduate/letters-science/astronomy/>) to Zoology (<https://guide.wisc.edu/undergraduate/letters-science/history/history-bs/undergraduate/letters-science/integrative-biology/zoology-bs/>). Majors that students most frequently pair with History are Economics (<https://guide.wisc.edu/undergraduate/letters-science/economics/>), English (<http://guide.wisc.edu/undergraduate/letters-science/english/>), Environmental Studies (<https://guide.wisc.edu/undergraduate/letters-science/environmental-studies/environmental-studies-major/>), Journalism (<https://guide.wisc.edu/undergraduate/letters-science/journalism-mass-communication/>), and Political Science (<https://guide.wisc.edu/undergraduate/letters-science/political-science/>). History students can also choose to add certificates in Letters & Science or other colleges, such as certificates in Business

(<https://guide.wisc.edu/undergraduate/business/school-wide/business-certificate/>) or Education and Educational Services (<https://guide.wisc.edu/undergraduate/education/educational-psychology/education-educational-services-certificate/>). In addition to these, some of the most common certificates for History students are currently Criminal Justice (<https://guide.wisc.edu/undergraduate/letters-science/center-law-society-justice/criminal-justice-certificate/>), Global Health (<https://guide.wisc.edu/undergraduate/agricultural-life-sciences/nutritional-sciences/global-health-certificate/>), European Studies (<https://guide.wisc.edu/undergraduate/letters-science/institute-regional-international-studies/european-certificate/>), and Digital Studies (<https://guide.wisc.edu/undergraduate/letters-science/communication-arts/digital-studies-certificate/>). The History advising team is happy to discuss ways for you to make your intellectual and career goals work as part of a four-year plan (<https://guide.wisc.edu/undergraduate/letters-science/history/history-ba/#fouryearplantext>).

Honors in the Major

The Honors in the Major track in history is intended for students who are eager to experience the excitement of original historical research and who wish to graduate with the best possible undergraduate training in this discipline. Honors in the Major is especially appropriate for students who are considering graduate work in history or who want an especially advanced training in research, reasoning, and writing skills useful to a wide range of career choices. Students in this track write a thesis in their senior year based on their own original historical research. Visit our website (<https://history.wisc.edu/undergraduate-program/undergraduate-declaring/honors-in-the-history-major/>) for more information on the thesis process and the requirements for Honors in the History Major.

CAREER ADVISING

History is a rigorous but flexible major, and history students are known for being excellent communicators and savvy researchers. Historians are experts in synthesizing disparate pieces of evidence into coherent, persuasive arguments. The real world is filled with disparate facts and incomplete sets of data, so this is a real-world skill that history alumni utilize throughout their entire careers. The department's career advisor, Christina Matta (<https://history.wisc.edu/people/matta-christina/>), helps History students map out future career plans and connects students to a variety of resources on campus and beyond, including history alumni who volunteer as career mentors (see below for more information).

Alumni of the history department have enjoyed careers in medical research and practice; broadcast and print media; sports management; museums, archives, and libraries; finance and business, and community service and nonprofit organizations—as well as law, academia, and many other fields. The History major provides excellent preparation for the study of law, but our students also go on to study medicine and many other graduate fields. The centers for Pre-Law Advising (<https://prelaw.wisc.edu/>) and Pre-Health Advising (<https://prehealth.wisc.edu/>) are especially helpful resources on campus for students interested in those areas of study.

History Careers Course: “History at Work”

HISTORY 300 History at Work: Professional Skills of the Major is a course intended to help History students understand how their degree applies to the world of work. Students explore how their history skills relate to the needs of professional employers and are guided in the process of finding and obtaining professional internships and jobs. In this course, History students can polish their written and oral communication skills in forms appropriate for professional situations and learn from the experiences of guest speakers from a variety of fields.

Internships

The Department of History recognizes the importance of internships in helping students develop professional skills and explore potential career paths. Positions can vary depending on availability and students' interests, but recent sponsors have included the Wisconsin State Historical Museum, the University of Wisconsin Archives, offices of elected officials in the Wisconsin State Legislature and United States Congress, the Milwaukee Brewers, and Community Shares of Wisconsin, just to name a few! History majors can also get academic credit in conjunction with an internship by taking HISTORY 301 History at Work: History Internship Seminar.

Alumni Mentoring

Like internships, networking can be a valuable tool in opening professional doors and learning more about the professional value of the History major.

The department often matches students with alumni mentors drawn from our Board of Visitors (<https://history.wisc.edu/alumni-and-friends/board-of-visitors/>) and other graduates who can help them get started building a professional network, answer questions about a specific field, provide guidance in applying for jobs or preparing for interviews, and provide general career advice.

Students interested in participating in an internship or talking with an alumni mentor should meet with Christina Matta, the department's undergraduate career advisor, to discuss their interests and possible career goals.

SUCCESSWORKS

SuccessWorks (<https://successworks.wisc.edu/>) at the College of Letters & Science helps you turn the academic skills learned in your classes into a fulfilling life, guiding you every step of the way to securing jobs, internships, or admission to graduate school.

Through one-on-one career advising, events, and resources, you can explore career options, build valuable internship and research experience, and connect with supportive alumni and employers who open doors of opportunity.

- What you can do with your major (<https://successworks.wisc.edu/what-you-can-do-with-your-major/>) (Major Skills & Outcomes Sheets)
- Make a career advising appointment (<https://successworks.wisc.edu/make-an-appointment/>)
- Learn about internships and internship funding (<https://successworks.wisc.edu/finding-a-job-or-internship/>)
- Try “Jobs, Internships, & How to Get Them,” (<https://successworks.wisc.edu/canvas/>) an interactive guide in Canvas for enrolled UW–Madison students

WISCONSIN EXPERIENCE

WISCONSIN EXPERIENCE

The History Department is committed to integrating undergraduate historical study into the Wisconsin Experience (<https://provost.wisc.edu/wisconsin-experience/>), UW–Madison's vision for students' growth inside and outside the classroom. History students at UW–Madison have a wide range of opportunities available to help them make the most of their history coursework and carry the study of the past beyond the boundaries of the classroom.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR HISTORY STUDENTS

ARCHIVE

ARCHIVE (<https://uarchive.wordpress.com/>) is an award-winning journal of historical work published annually by the UW–Madison chapter of Phi Alpha Theta. See ARCHIVE’s website to view past volumes and find out how you could be published.

Phi Alpha Theta

Phi Alpha Theta (<https://history.wisc.edu/undergraduate-program/academic-opportunities-student-life/phi-alpha-theta/>) is a national history honors society whose purpose is to promote the study of history and to bring students, teachers, and writers of history together in intellectual and social ways. See the UW–Madison chapter’s page for more information.

Language and Regional/International Studies

History classes and faculty are at the center of UW–Madison’s remarkable collection of resource centers for area studies. The I (<https://iris.wisc.edu/>) Institute for Regional and International Studies (<https://iris.wisc.edu/>) is the umbrella organization for UW–Madison’s eight area studies programs. Students interested in these areas can combine their History certificate with a major in International Studies (<https://guide.wisc.edu/undergraduate/letters-science/institute-regional-international-studies/international-studies-ba/>) or any of the area studies majors and/or certificates. UW–Madison also has one of the largest selections of language instruction (<https://languages.wisc.edu/>) in the United States.

Study Abroad

History is a great certificate for students interested in studying abroad (<https://studyabroad.wisc.edu/academics/major-advising-pages-maps/history/>) due to its flexibility and because history courses are available in most study abroad programs. The History Department encourages study abroad, and our advising team is happy to help students ensure that they are meeting degree requirements while studying abroad.

Wisconsin Historical Society

Scholars and researchers from all over the country (and the world) come to the Wisconsin Historical Society (<https://www.wisconsinhistory.org/>) (WHS) to do historical research. History students at UW–Madison simply walk across the street to make use of this world-class institution. The collections of the WHS are an amazing resource for our students and are utilized by a wide range of our courses. History students can also develop internships related to the WHS collections and programs. Students who are interested in the history of film and television often explore, or major in, Communication Arts (<https://guide.wisc.edu/undergraduate/letters-science/communication-arts/>) and can also get involved with the Wisconsin Center for Film and Theater Research (<http://wcftr.commarts.wisc.edu/>).

Center for Campus History

The University of Wisconsin–Madison’s Rebecca M. Blank Center for Campus History (<https://campushistory.wisc.edu/>) is an ongoing effort to uncover and give voice to those who experienced, challenged, and overcame prejudice on campus. Undergraduate students have been involved with the Center since its inception as the Public History Project in 2019, working as researchers conducting both archival research and oral history interviews with former students, faculty, and staff.

Public Humanities Exchange for Undergraduates (HEX-U)

The Public Humanities Exchange for Undergraduates (<https://humanities.wisc.edu/public-humanities/exchange/>) (HEX-U) is a high-impact program for undergraduate students at UW–Madison who wish to make meaningful connections between their humanities scholarship and the needs of the local community through new models of social engagement. The program provides training in community partnership, mentoring during project design and implementation, and project funding to small cohorts of undergraduate scholars as they plan and implement creative community projects in partnership with Dane County organizations.

The Nonviolence Project

The Nonviolence Project (<https://thenonviolenceproject.wisc.edu/>) is a comprehensive repository that educates and informs readers on the impact of nonviolent protests all over the world. From environmental issues to racial equality, the project showcases how nonviolence has been used to address many different issues by prominent world leaders and activists. The project aims to answer how and why nonviolence has been an effective sociopolitical tactic across different cultural, geographical, and political landscapes throughout history. The Nonviolence Project employs undergraduate student interns as researchers to help grow the repository of sources and present information to a broad audience.

Wisconsin 101: Our History in Objects

Wisconsin 101: Our History in Objects (<https://wi101.wisc.edu/>) is a collaborative public history project created through a partnership between the University of Wisconsin–Madison History Department, the Wisconsin Historical Society, and Wisconsin Public Radio’s Wisconsin Life program. At its core, this project invites nonprofessional historians to profile objects from their daily lives and write short histories that contextualize those objects within local history, regional historical trends, and even international change. Wisconsin 101 provides valuable internship opportunities for undergraduate students throughout the state of Wisconsin. These internships offer experience for students interested in public humanities, material culture, local history, writing, and educational outreach or editing.

RESOURCES AND SCHOLARSHIPS

RESOURCES AND SCHOLARSHIPS

THE HISTORY LAB

The History Lab is a resource center for undergraduate students studying, researching, and writing about the past. It is staffed by talented and experienced graduate students from the Department of History, and UW–Madison is one of only a handful of universities in the United States to have this kind of history-specific writing support.

Through individual and group tutoring, the lab focuses on honing students’ abilities to form suitable topics, conduct research, develop arguments and thesis statements, cite evidence properly, and write using an effective process. The lab is also equipped to support challenges faced by English-language learners.

For more information or to make an appointment, see the History Lab website. (<https://history.wisc.edu/undergraduate-program/the-history-lab/>)

RESEARCH FELLOWSHIPS AND SCHOLARSHIPS

The Department of History is committed to supporting undergraduate achievement and encourages applications for the various scholarships and research fellowships made possible by the generosity of its donors. Scholarships are designed to reward outstanding History students and are awarded annually. Research fellowships allow undergraduates to pursue in-depth historical research under the guidance of History faculty. These awards help defray research costs such as supplies and travel expenses or pay for living expenses to allow students time to craft their papers and conduct research in UW Libraries.

Detailed instructions on how to apply can be found on the Department of History website (<https://history.wisc.edu/undergraduate-program/academic-opportunities-student-life/scholarships-awards-and-prizes/>). Applications need to be submitted online, via the Wisconsin Scholarship Hub (WISH) (<https://wisc.academicworks.com/>).

UNDERGRADUATE WRITING PRIZES

The History department offers over fifteen different prizes designed to reward a broad range of undergraduate writing—from senior theses to digital and public history projects to specialized essays in American Indian History and LGBTQ+ History. The prizes are made possible thanks to the tremendous generosity of our alumni and former members of our faculty. The History department expresses its gratitude for their support in recognizing the achievements of our undergraduates.

Detailed instructions on how to apply can be found on the Department of History website (<https://history.wisc.edu/undergraduate-program/academic-opportunities-student-life/scholarships-awards-and-prizes/>). Applications need to be submitted online, via the Wisconsin Scholarship Hub (WISH) (<https://wisc.academicworks.com/>).
