PSYCHOLOGY, B.S.

The psychology major is the largest major in the College of Letters & Science, focusing on five areas in the field of psychological science: biological, clinical, cognitive and cognitive neuroscience, developmental, and social and personality.

The mission of the undergraduate program in psychology is to provide students with opportunities to:

• learn about the multiple content areas of scientific psychology
• develop the ability to think critically and quantitatively
• enhance written and oral communication skills
• prepare for the most rigorous graduate and professional programs
• apply the science of psychology to the well-being of citizens of Wisconsin and the global community

Some students will go to graduate school and become the next generation of psychological scientists and educators who will create and disseminate new knowledge. Others will choose careers in other areas, including but not limited to business, medicine, law, education, and counseling. Through its strong interdisciplinary connections with the natural sciences, social sciences, humanities, and medical sciences, scientific psychology is positioned well to influence critical issues for society. Because all courses in psychology emphasize critical thinking and the analysis of research, the undergraduate program prepares students to take on the challenges of and fully participate in an increasingly complex, multicultural world.

HOW TO GET IN

To declare the psychology major, a student must successfully complete PSYCH 202 Introduction to Psychology (or equivalent) with a grade of C or better and schedule an appointment (http://psych.wisc.edu/undergraduate-schedule-an-appointment.htm) with an advisor.

REQUIREMENTS

UNIVERSITY GENERAL EDUCATION REQUIREMENTS

All undergraduate students at the University of Wisconsin–Madison are required to fulfill a minimum set of common university general education requirements to ensure that every graduate acquires the essential core of an undergraduate education. This core establishes a foundation for living a productive life, being a citizen of the world, appreciating aesthetic values, and engaging in lifelong learning in a continually changing world. Various schools and colleges will have requirements in addition to the requirements listed below. Consult your advisor for assistance, as needed. For additional information, see the university Undergraduate General Education Requirements (http://guide.wisc.edu/undergraduate/#requirementsforundergraduatetestudytext) section of the Guide.

Requirements Detail

General Education

• Breadth—Humanities/Literature/Arts: 6 credits
• Breadth—Natural Science: 4 to 6 credits, consisting of one 4- or 5-credit course with a laboratory component; or two courses providing a total of 6 credits
• Breadth—Social Studies: 3 credits
• Communication Part A & Part B *
• Ethnic Studies *
• Quantitative Reasoning Part A & Part B *

* The mortarboard symbol appears before the title of any course that fulfills one of the Communication Part A or Part B, Ethnic Studies, or Quantitative Reasoning Part A or Part B requirements.

COLLEGE OF LETTERS & SCIENCE BREADTH AND DEGREE REQUIREMENTS: BACHELOR OF SCIENCE (B.S.)

Students pursuing a bachelor of science degree in the College of Letters & Science must complete all of the requirements below. The College of Letters & Science allows this major to be paired with either a bachelor of arts or a bachelor of science curriculum. View a comparison of the degree requirements here. RESIDENCE AND QUALITY OF WORK

- 2.000 GPA in all PSYCH and major courses
- 2.000 GPA on 15 upper-level major credits, taken in residence
- 15 credits in PSYCH, taken on the UW–Madison campus

2 PSYCH 300–699 are upper level in the major.

HONORS IN THE MAJOR

Students may apply for Honors in the Psychology Major in consultation with the psychology undergraduate advisor(s). Decisions on admission to the Honors in the Major in Psychology program are made once per year, in February, by a committee of psychology faculty. Overall, criteria emphasize demonstrated ability and commitment to becoming a first-rate scholar. Performance in coursework at the university, particularly Honors courses in psychology and related fields, is among the criteria for admission. Consistent with the philosophy that there is more to honors scholarship than distinguished grades, commitment to excellence in the science of psychology, evidence of broad scholarship (including mathematics and sciences), and evidence of involvement within the university and the broader community enhance students’ credentials.

HONORS IN THE PSYCHOLOGY MAJOR REQUIREMENTS

To earn a B.A. or B.S. with Honors in the Major in Psychology students must satisfy both the requirements for the major (above) and the following additional requirements:

- Earn a 3.300 overall university GPA
- Earn a 3.300 GPA for all PSYCH courses, and all courses in the major
- Complete the following courses, taken for Honors, with individual grades of B or better:
  - PSYCH 386 Topics in Psychology for Honors Students, taken for two semesters for a total of 2 credits
  - PSYCH 686 Honors Seminar in Psychology, taken for two semesters for a total of 2 credits
  - Three Psychology Breadth and/or Depth courses
  - A two-semester Senior Honors Thesis in PSYCH 681 Senior Honors Thesis and PSYCH 682 Senior Honors Thesis, for a total of 6 credits.

UNIVERSITY DEGREE REQUIREMENTS

Requirements Detail

- Total Degree: To receive a bachelor’s degree from UW–Madison, students must earn a minimum of 120 degree credits. The requirements for some programs may exceed 120 degree credits. Students should consult with their college or department advisor for information on specific credit requirements.
- Residency: Degree candidates are required to earn a minimum of 30 credits in residence at UW–Madison. “In residence” means on the UW–Madison campus with an undergraduate degree classification. “In residence” credit also includes UW–Madison courses offered in distance or online formats and credits earned in UW–Madison Study Abroad/Study Away programs.
- Quality of Work: Undergraduate students must maintain the minimum grade point average specified by the school, college, or academic program to remain in good academic standing. Students whose academic performance drops below these minimum thresholds will be placed on academic probation.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

1. Students will gain an appreciation for the contributions that psychology is making to our understanding of human and animal behavior.
2. Students will learn to analyze and construct arguments, define and solve problems, and understand and apply scientific reasoning.
3. Students will learn to communicate their ideas, both written and spoken, in a clear, organized, and compelling way.
4. Students will gain a specific understanding of how to use data and research methodology in their critical thinking.
5. Students will acquire an appreciation of and respect for individual differences and diversity of experiences and background.
6. Students will acquire the statistical and research skills used in the behavioral sciences.
7. Students will have the opportunity to evaluate the diverse professional opportunities in psychology.

ADVISING AND CAREERS

Advising appointments can be made through the WiscCal Scheduling Assistant. All major declarations require an appointment. You must have a NetID to make an appointment.

- Melanie Jones (https://calendar.wisc.edu/scheduling-assistant/public/profiles/DKwbhrvb.html): Students whose last name begins with A–H; Room 426 Brogden Psychology Building
- Stephanie Osborn (https://calendar.wisc.edu/scheduling-assistant/public/profiles/PmTkxMuT.html): Students whose last name begins with I–L; Room 428 Brogden Psychology Building
- Valerie Johnson (https://calendar.wisc.edu/scheduling-assistant/public/profiles/ZRvJFZZg.html): Students whose last name begins with M–Z; Room 430 Brogden Psychology Building
Please see this link for instructions on how to use Scheduling Assistant (http://kb.wisc.edu/page.php?id=11776). We have three advisors in the psychology department; all currently declared students should try to schedule an appointment with their assigned advisor.

Appointments may be made up to two weeks in advance, with at least 24 hours advance notice. Students are allowed only one appointment in a two week period. Please note that students are limited to one 25-minute appointment within a two-week interval. Students who are more than 10 minutes late for an appointment will be required to reschedule.

If you need to cancel an appointment, you must do so through Scheduling Assistant. Students who have migrated to Office365 and are using the Outlook Web App should be sure to send us a response if they decline their appointment.

Please also note that there is a high demand for advising in the psychology department. It is common for appointments to be filled quickly. Requests for appointments cannot be made via email. If you have more immediate advising needs, please refer to the weekly drop-in hours (http://psych.wisc.edu/undergraduate-drop-in-hours.htm). All students, regardless of their assigned advisor, may attend drop-in advising.

Are you a prospective student?

We are happy to meet with prospective UW–Madison students to discuss the psychology major during nonpeak advising. Peak advising occurs during the first three weeks of each semester and during registration time (during the months of March/April and October/November). We require a minimum of two weeks advance notice to schedule an appointment. You may contact us via email: advisor@psych.wisc.edu.
