Master of Science in Business Analytics

The ability to turn data into decisions is crucial in our fast-paced world, and with our one-year, STEM-designated degree in Business Analytics, you can learn to leverage data to answer complex business questions.

The Business Analytics curriculum includes the following topics:

- Machine learning
- Data visualization
- Data technology
- Statistics
- Programming
- Experimental design
- Optimization
- Cloud computing
- Project management

You will also benefit from experiential learning through real-world consulting projects and choose electives from various industry-specific analytics courses.

ADMISSIONS

The following will be required for admission to the Master of Science: Business: Analytics program:

- Undergraduate degree. Common majors interested in this program include business, computer science, economics, engineering, mathematics, statistics, or other quantitative fields. Any undergraduate university degree is acceptable. Expected completion of an undergraduate degree is required prior to starting the Master of Science: Business: Analytics program.
- GMAT or GRE score.
- Resume.
- One professional letter of recommendation.
- Response to essay(s) question.
- Interview (by invitation only).
- TOEFL or IELTS test score, only for applications whose native language is not English.

The TOEFL is waived for students who have completed a four-year undergraduate degree and/or master degree (minimum of eight semesters total) with instruction in English or who will complete such a degree prior to matriculation in the Master of Science: Business: Analytics program.

All undergraduate and masters degree transcripts will be evaluated. Schools outside the United States may be verified by World Education Services at the individual class level.

HOW TO APPLY

Students interested in business degrees do not apply through the Graduate School application system and should instead refer to the School of Business Admissions page. (https://business.wisc.edu/graduate/masters/business-analytics/admissions/)

POLICIES

GRADUATE SCHOOL POLICIES

The Graduate School's Academic Policies and Procedures (https://grad.wisc.edu/acadpolicy/) provide essential information regarding general university policies. Program authority to set degree policies beyond the minimum required by the Graduate School lies with the degree program faculty. Policies set by the academic degree program can be found below.
MAJOR-SPECIFIC POLICIES

PRIOR COURSEWORK

Graduate Work from Other Institutions
With program approval, up to 6 credits of coursework at the graduate level from an AACSB-accredited school, and in which a grade of B or better was earned, may count toward the degree.

UW–Madison Undergraduate
Up to 6 credits numbered 300 or above of required or elective courses from the undergraduate work completed at UW–Madison in which a B or better was earned may be used towards fulfillment of minimum degree and minor credit requirements. However, this work would not be allowed to count toward the 50% graduate coursework minimum unless taken at the 700 level or above.

UW–Madison University Special
With program approval, students are allowed to count no more than 9 credits of coursework numbered 700 or above taken as a UW–Madison University Special student. Coursework earned five or more years prior to the master’s degree is not allowed to satisfy requirements.

PROBATION

This program follows the Graduate School’s Probation policy (https://policy.wisc.edu/library/UW-1217/).

ADVISOR/COMMITTEE

This program follows the Graduate School’s Advisor policy. (https://policy.wisc.edu/library/UW-1232/)

CREDITS PER TERM ALLOWED

15 credits

TIME LIMITS

This program follows the Graduate School’s Time Limits policy. (https://policy.wisc.edu/library/UW-1221/)

- Title IX (https://compliance.wisc.edu/titleix/) (for concerns about discrimination)

Any student who feels that they have been mistreated by a faculty or staff member has the right to lodge a complaint. Complaints may concern course grades, classroom treatment, program admission, or other issues. To ensure a prompt and fair hearing of any complaint and to protect both the student’s rights and the person at whom the complaint is addressed, the grievance procedures below are used in the Wisconsin School of Business.

The person whom the complaint is directed against must be an employee of the School of Business. Any student or potential student may use these procedures unless other campus rules or contracts cover the complaint:

1. If the student feels comfortable/safe doing so, the student should first talk with the person against whom the grievance is directed. Most issues can be settled at this level. If the complaint is directed against a teaching assistant (TA) and the student is not satisfied after discussion of the grievance with the TA, the next step would be to talk to the TA’s supervisor, who is usually the course professor. If the complaint is still not resolved satisfactorily, the student may continue to step 2.

2. If the complaint involves an academic department, the student should contact the chair of the department. The chair will attempt to resolve the problem informally. If this cannot be done to the student’s satisfaction, the student may submit the grievance to the chair in writing. This must be done within 60 calendar days of the alleged unfair treatment.
   a. If the complaint does not involve an academic department, the procedure outlined in Step 4 below should be followed.

3. On receipt of a written complaint, the chair will refer the matter to a departmental committee, which will obtain a written response from the person at whom the complaint is directed. This response shall be shared with the person filing the grievance. The chair will provide a written decision within 30 days to the student on the action taken by the committee.

4. If either party is not satisfied with the decision, they have five working days from receipt of the decision to contact the dean’s office (at the number below), indicating the intention to appeal. If the complaint does not involve an academic department in the school, the student must contact the dean’s office within 60 calendar days of the alleged unfair treatment.

5. In other cases, there will be an attempt to resolve the issue informally by the appropriate associate dean. If this cannot be done, the complaint can be filed in writing with the Office of the Dean. This must be done within 10 working days of the time the appealing party was notified that informal resolution was unsuccessful.

6. On receipt of such a written complaint, the Chief Diversity and Inclusion Officer will convene a subcommittee of relevant stakeholders pending the nature of the issue. This subcommittee may ask for additional information from the questions about these procedures can be directed to the School of Business, Office of the Dean, 4339 Grainger, 975 University Avenue, 608-262-7867.

State law contains additional provisions regarding discrimination and harassment. Wisconsin Statutes 36.12 reads, in part: “No student may be denied admission to, participation in or the benefits of, or be discriminated against in any service, program, course or facility of the system or its institutions or center because of the student’s race, color, creed, religion, sex, national origin, disability, ancestry, age, sexual orientation, pregnancy, marital status or parental status.” In addition, UW–System prohibits discrimination based on gender identity or gender expression. Students have the right to file discrimination and harassment complaints with the Office of Compliance, 361 Bascom Hall, 608-265-6018, uwcomplianceoffice@wisc.edu.

The Graduate School has procedures for students wishing to appeal a grievance decision at the school/college level. These policies are described in the Graduate School's Academic Policies and Procedures: https://grad.wisc.edu/documents/grievances-and-appeals/
