Students are expected to carry a full load, defined as three courses (nine credits) plus colloquium (one credit) per semester, unless a student’s advisor recommends an exception.

ADVISOR / COMMITTEE

Although an initial faculty advisor is assigned to each student during the summer prior to matriculation in the graduate program, students should seek out regular advisors by the end of their first year in residence. The regular advisor should be a faculty member whose research interests and methodological expertise match closely to those that the student intends to acquire. While no faculty member is obliged to accept a student’s request to serve as advisor, invitations are usually accepted except where the faculty member judges that a different advisor would serve the student’s needs and interests better.

Early in the semester in which the comprehensive exam/thesis will be completed, students will form an MA defense committee consisting of three to four faculty members, one of which is their advisor. In the case of comprehensive examinations, all committee members will write exam questions, read the answers, and sit on the MA defense. In the case of a thesis, all committee members will read the manuscript and sit on the MA defense.

CREDITS PER TERM ALLOWED

10-credit maximum unless additional credits are approved by faculty advisor, up to 15

TIME LIMITS

Master’s degrees are generally expected to be completed within five semesters of matriculation.
