

EDUCATION: INSTRUCTIONAL COACHING, MS

The Master of Science in Education: Instructional Coaching is a convenient, fully online graduate degree offered through the Department of Educational Psychology in the School of Education at the University of Wisconsin Madison. Instructional Coaching is an integrated part of the degree, not a separate certificate.

The curriculum builds depth and breadth in knowledge and skills related to education and instructional coaching and integrates courses from three School of Education departments: Educational Psychology, Curriculum & Instruction, and Educational Leadership & Policy Analysis.

Teaching professionals can complete the degree in two years while learning from faculty in one of the leading educational psychology departments, as ranked by U.S. News & World Report.
