ENGINEERING MANAGEMENT, MS

MS Engineering Management is an interactive online engineering master’s degree. It is designed to help engineering professionals become exceptional leaders and managers. Throughout the degree, students immediately apply what they learn to their workplace.

This program creates a supportive, interactive online environment that enhances learning from fellow students as well as instructors, while still providing the flexibility necessary to integrate with students’ professional lives.

Curriculum focuses on project management, professional ethics, communication, data analysis, problem-solving and collaboration across an engineering enterprise. Students complete the program in 2.5 to four years and may enter in summer, fall or spring terms.

MS Engineering Management is an evolution of the successful MEng Engineering: Engineering Management program.

Students must have at least two years of professional engineering experience to qualify for admission. Early career engineers may begin their studies with the Capstone Certificate in Applied Engineering Management (http://guide.wisc.edu/nondegree/capstone/applied-engineering-management-capstone-certificate/).

Grievance Procedures

Students who feel that they have been treated unfairly have the right to a prompt hearing of their grievance. Such complaints may involve course grades, classroom treatment, advising, various forms of harassment, or other issues. Any student or potential student may use these procedures.

Procedures for proper accounting of student grievances:

1. The student should speak first with the person toward whom the grievance is directed. In most cases, grievances can be resolved at this level.
2. If that does not resolve the grievance, the student should contact the program’s director.
3. Should a satisfactory resolution not be achieved, the student should contact one of the Interpro’s Grievance Advisors to discuss the practice. The Interpro Grievance Advisors are:

   Susan Ottman
   Graduate Program Director
   608-262-3516
   sottmann@wisc.edu

   Ed Borbely
   Associate Dean
   608-263-0982
   borbely@wisc.edu

   If the student prefers to talk with someone outside of Interpro, contact:

   David Noyce
   Executive Associate Dean
   College of Engineering
   danoyce@wisc.edu
   608-265-1882

   The Grievance Advisor is responsible for facilitating any complaints or issues of students. The Grievance Advisor first attempts to help students informally address the grievance prior to any formal complaint. Students are also encouraged to talk with their advisors regarding concerns or difficulties if necessary.

   University resources for sexual harassment concerns can be found on the UW Office of Equity and Diversity website and are included in the next section.

4. If the issue is not resolved to the student’s satisfaction, the student can submit the grievance to the Grievance Advisor in writing, within 60 calendar days of the alleged unfair treatment.

5. On receipt of a written complaint, a committee will be convened by the Grievance Advisor to manage the grievance. The program committee will obtain a written response from the person toward whom the complaint is directed. This response will be shared with the person filing the grievance.

6. The committee will determine a decision regarding the grievance. The Grievance Advisor will report on the action taken by the committee in writing to both the student and the party toward whom the complaint was directed within 15 working days from the date the complaint was received.

7. At this point, if either party (the student or the person toward whom the grievance is directed) is unsatisfied with the decision of the committee, the party may file a written appeal. Either party has 10 working days to file a written appeal to the College of Engineering.

8. Documentation of the grievance will be stored for at least seven years. Significant grievances that set a precedent will be stored indefinitely. The Graduate School has established policies governing student conduct, academic dishonesty, and sexual and racial harassment. The Graduate School also has procedures for students wishing to appeal a grievance decision made at the College of Engineering level.
The Graduate School has procedures for students wishing to appeal a grievance decision made at the school/college level. These policies are described in the Graduate School’s Academic Policies and Procedures: https://grad.wisc.edu/documents/grievances-and-appeals/

OTHER
Students are strongly discouraged to pursue positions as Project Assistants, Teaching Assistants or Research Assistants during their time in this program. Students in this program will not receive the tuition remission that is typically part of the compensation package for a graduate assistantship.
