INTERDISCIPLINARY THEATRE STUDIES, DOCTORAL MINOR

The Doctoral Minor in Interdisciplinary Theatre Studies (ITS) offers doctoral students in other UW–Madison departments and programs the opportunity to gain advanced knowledge of theatre and performance history, theory and criticism as a complement to their core field of study. It will be of particular interest to students studying dramatic literature in English or foreign language departments; fine arts and communication arts students engaged in performance research, history, pedagogy or practice; and students in folklore, gender and women’s studies or other programs engaged in research about performativity, ritual or the performance of everyday life.

ADMISSIONS

PhD students in other departments or programs may choose to complete a doctoral minor in Interdisciplinary Theatre Studies (ITS). Students interested in this minor must meet with the Program Director, who will advise them of and approve courses appropriate to their specific interests.

All Graduate School students must utilize the Graduate Student Portal in MyUW to add, change, or discontinue any doctoral minor. To apply to this minor, log in to MyUW, click on Graduate Student Portal, and then click on Add/Change Programs. Select the information for the doctoral minor for which you are applying.

REQUIREMENTS

Students must complete 9 credits numbered 300 or higher with the “Grad 50%” attribute. A maximum of 3 credits (1 course) of independent study are allowed. In courses with different assignments for graduate students than undergraduate students, students seeking the doctoral minor must complete the graduate student assignments in the course. Students must earn a grade point average of at least 3.0 in all minor courses.

1 Interdisciplinary Theatre Studies is made up of a transdisciplinary faculty with tenure homes across the university. When a faculty member in Interdisciplinary Theatre Studies teaches a course relevant to the program, the Director (under advisement of the steering committee) will designate said course as eligible for inclusion in a student’s doctoral minor, and advertise the fact to all students in the minor.

PRIOR COURSEWORK

Under unusual circumstances it may be possible for theatre or performance studies courses completed at another institution within the prior five years to satisfy minor requirements. Such transfer credits must be approved by the Program Director based on the syllabus, transcript, and final paper from the course.
