

GENDER AND WOMEN'S STUDIES, DOCTORAL MINOR

Any student enrolled in a UW–Madison doctoral program can pursue a doctoral minor in Gender and Women's Studies. The doctoral minor offers substantial and systematic training in the field of gender and women's studies. A doctoral minor in Gender and Women's Studies is an excellent way to gain training in feminist analysis and research methods as well as in substantive topical areas related to women and gender that can be applied to one's research field and to one's teaching. The training is greatly aided by the presence of excellent library holdings and the Office of the Gender and Women's Studies Librarian (<https://www.library.wisc.edu/gwslibrarian/>).

Students interested in the Doctoral Minor in Gender and Women's Studies should connect with the Graduate Coordinator (<https://gws.wisc.edu/graduate/graduate-advising/>).

Graduate students may not earn both an Option A minor and a graduate/professional certificate in Gender and Women's Studies (<http://guide.wisc.edu/graduate/gender-womens-studies/gender-womens-studies-graduate-professional-certificate/>).
