LEARNING OUTCOMES

1. Describe specific problems associated with patient safety.
2. Compare and contrast traditional approaches to safety with a systems engineering approach.
3. Explain how systems engineering and systems design can be used to identify, analyze, and solve patient safety research and applied problems.
4. Demonstrate the ability to apply system engineering principles to a real-world problem in healthcare through the completion of a research project.