

EAST ASIAN STUDIES, DOCTORAL MINOR

The Center for East Asian Studies (<https://easia.wisc.edu/>) (CEAS) is the focal point connecting East Asia to the UW-Madison. One of the UW-Madison's eight federally funded National Resource Centers, CEAS is dedicated to all aspects of research, education and outreach related to China, Japan, and Korea.

CEAS began in 1962 as the East Asian Studies program, building on more than sixty years of research and teaching on China, Japan, and Korea at the UW-Madison. Over the years it has grown from fewer than a dozen faculty members teaching thirty graduate-level courses to more than seventy faculty members teaching nearly three hundred courses at both undergraduate and graduate levels.

The doctoral minor in East Asian Studies is offered to students who are enrolled in a doctoral program at the UW-Madison and are interested in focusing their studies on East Asia. Students interested in obtaining this minor should consult with the Center's Associate Director, who serves as the advisor for the minor in East Asian studies.
