East Asian Studies, Doctoral Minor

The Center for East Asian Studies (https://eastasia.wisc.edu/) (CEAS) is the focal point connecting East Asia to UW-Madison. One of UW-Madison’s eight federally funded National Resource Centers, CEAS is dedicated to all aspects of research, education, and outreach related to China, Japan, and Korea.

CEAS began in 1962 as the East Asian Studies program, building on more than sixty years of research and teaching on China, Japan, and Korea at UW-Madison. Over the years it has grown from fewer than a dozen faculty members teaching 30 graduate-level courses to more than 70 faculty members teaching nearly 300 courses at both undergraduate and graduate levels.

The doctoral minor in East Asian Studies is offered to students who are enrolled in a doctoral program at UW-Madison and are interested in focusing their studies on East Asia. Students interested in obtaining this minor should consult with the Center’s Associate Director, who serves as the advisor for the minor in East Asian studies.
