ADMISSIONS

Please consult the table below for key information about this degree program's admissions requirements. The program may have more detailed admissions requirements, which can be found below the table or on the program's website.

Graduate admissions is a two-step process between academic programs and the Graduate School. Applicants must meet the minimum requirements (<https://grad.wisc.edu/apply/requirements/>) of the Graduate School as well as the program(s). Once you have researched the graduate program(s) you are interested in, apply online (<https://grad.wisc.edu/apply/>).

Requirements	Detail
Fall Deadline	April 1 for international applicants; June 1 for domestic applicants
Spring Deadline	August 1 for international applicants; October 1 for domestic applicants
Summer Deadline	The program does not admit in the summer.
GRE (Graduate Record Examinations)	Not required
English Proficiency Test	Every applicant whose native language is not English, or whose undergraduate instruction was not exclusively in English, must provide an English proficiency test score earned within two years of the anticipated term of enrollment. Refer to the Graduate School: Minimum Requirements for Admission policy: https://policy.wisc.edu/library/UW-1241 (https://policy.wisc.edu/library/UW-1241/).
Other Test(s) (e.g., GMAT, MCAT)	n/a
Letters of Recommendation Required	3

The required materials for the online application are:

- Statement of purpose
- Unofficial transcripts of all undergraduate and graduate study
- Three references

Applicants must demonstrate a level of proficiency in a Southeast Asian language equivalent to four semesters of the language. The program will verify proficiency acquired through heritage (nationality) or previous study.

In cases where deficiencies are identified, applicants must complete additional language courses during enrollment (chosen in consultation with advisor). These courses do not satisfy minimum degree requirements.
