Mode of Instruction Definitions

Accelerated: Accelerated programs are offered at a fast pace that condenses the time to completion. Students typically take enough credits aimed at completing the program in a year or two.

Evening/Weekend: Courses meet on the UW–Madison campus only in evenings and/or on weekends to accommodate typical business schedules. Students have the advantages of face-to-face courses with the flexibility to keep work and other life commitments.

Face-to-Face: Courses typically meet during weekdays on the UW–Madison Campus.

Hybrid: These programs combine face-to-face and online learning formats. Contact the program for more specific information.

Online: These programs are offered 100% online. Some programs may require an on-campus orientation or residency experience, but the courses will be facilitated in an online format.

Requirements

Assessments and Examinations To complete the MA program, students must write a research paper on Southeast Asia approved by and under the supervision of their faculty advisor; this paper must then be defended in an oral examination before three faculty members affiliated with the Center (their advisor and two others selected in consultation with their advisor).

Language Requirements Students must demonstrate a level of proficiency in a Southeast Asian language equivalent to having successfully completed four semesters of the language.

REQUIRED COURSES

Students must complete thirty credits of area-content coursework (<https://seasia.wisc.edu/courses/>). Specific course requirements are outlined below.

Code	Title	Credits
Field of Concentration		12
Students must complete 12 credits in one field of concentration (one department, in two or more related departments, or an interdisciplinary field approved by the faculty advisor).
One or More Other Fields of Coursework		18
Students must complete the remaining 18 credits in one or more other fields. These courses are chosen in consultation with faculty advisor.
Graduate Seminars (6 credits)
Students must complete at least 6 credits of graduate seminars. These seminars can be completed within the student's field of concentration, one or more other fields of coursework, or both requirements.
Total Credits		30

Advanced Language

Up to 6 credits of Advanced Language (ASIALANG (<http://guide.wisc.edu/courses/asialang/>) courses) may count towards the minimum degree requirements. Interdisciplinary courses may be taken from many departments. All courses counted for the degree program must have at least 30% Southeast Asian content, demonstrated by lectures and readings, and/or by relevant writing assignments or a research paper.

For a more complete and up-to-date listing of currently available courses, contact the Center for Southeast Asian Studies. Because the instructors and content of many courses may change over time (especially for graduate-level topics courses and seminars), students should consult the Center for Southeast Asian Studies for confirmation on whether a course may count for the MA degree, the graduate certificate, or the doctoral minor.
