This page describes policies specific to the DMA program in Music Performance at UW-Madison. It covers topics such as graduate work from other institutions, prior coursework, time limits, major-specific policies, advisor/committee, and credits per term allowed. The page also includes links to various resources and departments within the university for addressing grievances and appeals. The text is clear and structured, providing detailed information on the requirements and processes for DMA students.