

FERMENTED FOODS AND BEVERAGES, CERTIFICATE

RESOURCES AND SCHOLARSHIPS

RESOURCES AND SCHOLARSHIPS

Financial support such as scholarships, part-time employment, paid internships, and work-study programs is available to qualified undergraduate students enrolled in the certificate. We express our appreciation to Leinenkugel family in support of fermentation programming. Students with a primary major in the College of Agricultural and Life Sciences receive more than $1.25 million in scholarships annually.