

PREPARING TO TEACH ABROAD, CERTIFICATE

The Curriculum and Global Studies area encompasses multiple research programs in order to consider the politics of knowledge and the paradoxes of inclusions that exclude in curriculum, pedagogy, and teacher education. While encompassing diverse lines of inquiry, scholarship in this area engages in postfoundational approaches, giving critical attention to coloniality, differences, racialization, and beyond Western cosmologies. The research occurs at the interstices of historicizing methods related to political sociology and comparative philosophy, among others.

The affinity of the curriculum studies and global studies derives from the transnational nature of the faculty’s work and reflects the significant number of international scholars and students affiliated with the area.

HOW TO GET IN

All current UW-Madison undergraduates are eligible to complete the Certificate in Preparing to Teach Abroad. To declare the certificate, students should meet with the Certificate advisor and then visit the School of Education’s Certificate Programs (<https://education.wisc.edu/academics/certificates/>) page to complete the declaration form.

REQUIREMENTS

The Certificate in Preparing to Teach Abroad requires the following course distribution for a minimum of 15 credits. At least 8 credits must be completed in residence. Students must complete two required courses, CURRIC 366 and CURRIC 418, 6 credits of electives, and a required capstone course, CURRIC 419.

Completion of the certificate requires a minimum GPA of 2.0 in certificate coursework.

REQUIRED COURSES

Code	Title	Credits
CURRIC 366	Internationalizing Educational Knowledge	3
CURRIC 418	Preparing to Teach Abroad	3
CURRIC 419	Preparing to Teach Abroad Capstone	3

ELECTIVES

The 6 credits of electives can be taken concurrently with required certificate classes. Students can choose to concentrate their electives on the following themes, but are not required to do so. In selecting courses we will encourage students to consider courses both relevant to the areas of interest, but also issues raised in the certificate’s required courses. Course selection can be guided in consultation with the certificate advisor.

CERTIFICATE COMPLETION REQUIREMENT

This undergraduate certificate must be completed concurrently with the student's undergraduate degree. Students cannot delay degree completion to complete the certificate.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

1. Analyze issues of coloniality, power, and difference as they relate to teaching, learning, and curriculum in non-US settings.
2. Examine key cultural, social, and historical relationships to educational knowledges before entering a pedagogical space abroad.
3. Identify curriculum and teaching practices that produce difference and exclusions, focusing on the intersection of transnational and local contexts.
4. Develop culturally responsive practices and pedagogies focused on teaching abroad.
5. Use experiential knowledge of practicum teaching to reflect on pedagogical practices and contextual differences in non-US contexts.
