The Certificate in Chinese Professional Communication provides students with the opportunity to develop proficiency in Chinese while pursuing majors in other subjects across the university. It emphasizes the development of communication skills that are applicable to various professional contexts that students may encounter in their future careers.

The certificate is open to all undergraduate students (except for those majoring in Chinese). For more information about the Department of Asian Languages and Cultures see the department overview (http://guide.wisc.edu/undergraduate/letters-science/asian-languages-cultures/).

STUDY ABROAD

Students may receive residence credit for study abroad through a variety of different programs through UW–Madison’s International Academic Programs (https://studyabroad.wisc.edu/). Currently study abroad is not offered in mainland China, many of our majors are electing to study abroad in Taiwan or Singapore, among other options in Europe, where Chinese is offered.

Students may also receive credit, or gain experience, through various internship opportunities abroad. Please contact International Internship Programs (https://internships.international.wisc.edu/) for details.
