CERTIFICATION/LICENSURE

CERTIFICATION/LICENSURE EXAM PASS RATES

Association of Social Work Boards (<https://www.aswb.org/>) BSW exam pass rates.

Many students pursuing a BSW will go on to earn a Master in Social Work, which does not require taking the bachelor's level exam. As such, the number of students taking the exam is not high enough, making it easy to identify individual results. Thus, no data is available from ASWB for UW-Madison attempts in years when the number of students taking the exam is low.

PROFESSIONAL CERTIFICATION/LICENSURE DISCLOSURE (NC-SARA)

The United States Department of Education (via 34 CFR Part 668 (<https://www.ecfr.gov/current/title-34/subtitle-B/chapter-VI/part-668/?toc=1>)) requires institutions that provide distance education to disclose information for programs leading to professional certification or licensure. The expectation is that institutions will determine whether each applicable academic program meets state professional licensure requirements and provide a general disclosure of such on an official university website.

Professional licensure requirements vary from state-to-state and can change year-to-year; they are established in a variety of state statutes, regulations, rules, and policies; and they center on a range of educational requirements, including degree type, specialized accreditation, total credits, specific courses, and examinations.

UW-Madison has taken reasonable efforts to determine whether this program satisfies the educational requirements for certification/licensure in states where prospective and enrolled students are located and is disclosing that information as follows.

Disclaimer: This information is based on the most recent annual review of state agency certification/licensure data and is subject to change. All students are strongly encouraged to consult with the individual/office listed in the Contact Information box on this page and with the applicable state agency for specific information.

The requirements of this program meet certification/licensure requirements in the following states:

Illinois, Wisconsin

The requirements of this program do not meet certification/licensure requirements in the following states:
